ON-THE-SPOT

Vol. Fire Dept. Proposes Local Emergency Medical Service

"Operations Life," an emergency medical service to provide on-the-spot care in Greencastle and Greencastle Township, has been proposed by DePauw Fire Co., Capt., Ray Hill of the DePauw unit said yesterday at the noon meeting of the Greencastle Rotary Club.

Hill pointed out that statistics prove a great number of coronary patients and accident victims are lost each year because the patient is taken to the care rather than having the care come to the patient.

DePauw's Fire Co. proposes to acquire a Mobile Intensive Care Unit through which emergency care would be available anywhere in the Greencastle area in the matter of minutes. The unit would be staffed with a minimum of three trained people on each run.

Hill explained that 10 members of the DePauw Unit have already received training in emergency techniques and advanced training is in progress. Through this paramedic training, personnel will be able to administer professional care at the scene.

Through a comprehensive communications system, the Operations Life Unit could contact doctors and start immediate treatment based on the doctor's instructions. Running contact with the hospital could also be maintained.

"The American Ambulance Association reports that 20,000 die each year because of improper treatment on the scene," Hill said. "We plan to staff our unit with people who want to save lives and who are willing to take training to accomplish this."

"We plan to provide a year around service to the community," Hill said. "Students will remain here during the summer and some of our people have already lined up summer jobs in this community."

All members of the Operations Life unit will carry radios to alert them when an emergency arises. It is hoped that an easy to remember universal telephone number can be installed here.

The total cost of implementing the full service here could run slightly in excess of $20,000. It was pointed out, however, that with the use of volunteer personnel, the cost would be only a fraction of what it would otherwise be.

Hill said that the unit already has been given some equipment and that some state funds are available. But there is still a need for community support which will be sought in the coming weeks.

Hill explained that while the proposed service will operate principally in Greencastle and Greencastle Township, it will respond to highway accidents when called. There are no plans to use the unit for routine ambulance transportation.

'Middleman, Other Hogs' Set Grange Tone

When the overseer of Putnam County's Monroe Grange No. 1402 stood up in stated meeting 100 years ago this month and gave a dissertation entitled "Middlemen and Other Hogs," he set the tone for numerous activities of the farm lodge organization.

When it came to purchasing farm equipment, the Grange could become militant as a resolution from a minute book owned by Miss Helen Browning of Greencastle indicated. It read as follows:

"Whereas the manufacturers of the Chilled Plow Co. of South Bend, Ind. and the Champion Reaper Co. of Springfield, Ohio, have persistently refused to deal only through their own agents, thus utterly ignoring our order, resolved that we discontinue the sale of both firms and that we will not deal with no agent appointed by them, that we will buy only through agents of the order

(the Grange) and our own appointments.

"Resolved that we stand by no firm that will not sell goods through our agents and resolved that a copy of this request be sent to the Indiana Farmer for publication."

Other evidence that members of the Grange had put themselves in the driver's seat in the purchase of commodities is given in the frequent order for mass purchasing of flour and salt. Various sources were contacted, and a supplier had to come up with the low bid to do business with the Monroe Grange.

When one of their members returned from a soldiers' reunion in Indianapolis with a report that prices for groceries were lower in that city, the Grange immediately set about investigating the possibility of giving capital firms their food business.

Flour was ordered by the barrel and in advance of mass purchase, members would anticipate their needs and order accordingly. On one occasion the purchase amounted to 12 barrels at $5.40 each. This was from an out of county firm. Later a Greencastle miller offered flour at wholesale to Grange members.

While Grange members were enjoying lower prices, there was apparently a temptation on the part of some to be a little crooked. One minute entry reads: "Resolved that the members of the Monroe Grange shall not buy any article of merchandise in or through the name of this Grange and sell to anyone who is not a member thereof."

Since Monroe Grange had commodity suppliers bidding for their business, the members decided to bid for services, too. They initiated what seems to be a century-old health plan which would contribute to their welfare.

Doctors of the county were contacted to determine their interest in acquiring all the Grange sick business. Most of the doctors declined for one reason or another.

When one doctor agreed to consider their proposition, the Grange made plans to "dicker" with him on price. One of the brothers was appointed to negotiate with the doctor to see "what was the lowest he would practice for."

Myers Reintroduces Veterans Cost Of Living Hike Legislation

Seventh District Congressman John Myers announced he has reintroduced legislation providing for annual increases in veterans' pensions based on the cost of living.

Rep. Myers' proposal, H.R. 12652, is similar to one he first introduced in 1971. He said he was encouraged when President Nixon recently endorsed the cost-of-living plan and is hopeful the proposal will be scheduled for hearings before the House Veterans' Affairs Committee in the near future.

Congressman Myers said his plan is patterned after the recent amendments to the Social Security law and would direct the Veterans' Administration to increase all VA pensions and benefits on Jan. 1 of each year in an amount equal to the increase in the cost of living during the preceding year. Myers proposes the law take effect Jan. 1, 1974.

Cloverdale Ticket Sales End Tuesday

Cloverdale head basketball coach Al Tucker reported this morning that the sale of sectional basketball tickets at the south county school will close at 3 p.m. next Tuesday.

The coach said the school will not be able to sell tickets Wednesday as earlier reported.

Optimists Set Orator Event

Orators from the four Putnam County high schools will meet in Greencastle March 7 for a contest sponsored by the Greencastle Optimist Club, according to Bob Shelton, who is chairing the event for the club.

Preliminaries will soon be scheduled in North Putnam, South Putnam, Cloverdale and Greencastle schools to select two contestants, one boy and one girl, to represent them at the county meet to be held at 7 p.m. in the McAnally auditorium.

Judges for the contest will come from DePauw University and speech teachers from the cooperating high schools will help coordinate the contest.

Two trophies will be awarded by the Optimists in the finals, one to the winner of the boys' division and one to the winning girl contestant.

Arrests

Two Putnam County youths and a Parke County man were arrested and lodged in the Putnam County jail early this morning.

Darrell Jackson, 20, and Frederick J. Williams, Jr., 19, both of Reelsville, Route 1, were taken into custody on Ind. 240 at 12:30 a.m. by Greencastle police and booked for being minors in possession of alcohol.

Thomas Reports On State Session

"The 1974 Legislature finished its work and adjourned last Friday, the House at 1:45 a.m. and the Senate almost ten hours later. It was the 29th legislative day of a maximum of 30 allowed by law.

the Governor for his approval or veto, some issues were not resolved and must await action next session.

"The shortness of the session did not afford enough time to agree on a compromise law to control pornography and obscene material. Some legislators felt very strongly that the law should only prevent sale of pornographic matter to minors and be kept out of public display, thereby permitting it to be available for adults, while others were steadfast in their belief that all pornography should be outlawed.

"The resulting stalemate means that there is still no law whatsoever controlling obscene material in Indiana, as the Supreme Court last year declared the existing law unconstitutional.

"Another disappointment was our failure to work out a satisfactory compromise of the J.P. issue. By action of the voters in the 1972 referendum, the Justice of the Peace system goes out of existence at the end of the 1975. A replacement system of county courts to take care of small claims and misdemeanor offenses was worked out, but then failed to be agreed upon by the four members of the conference committee.

"However, we were able to pass laws increasing workmen's compensation benefits, placing a limit on the tort liability of state and local units of government, providing for an emergency medical service program, granting additional budgeting for schools and state institutions to compensate for increased operating costs, making funds available for improving our state parks and mental health facilities, preventing courts from suspending sen-

A LITTLE OF:

This And That

I've had at least a dozen telephone calls from friends and readers of this column about wild geese flying north the past few days.

Surely these geese must know something or they wouldn't be leaving the Southland for the wilds of Canada at this time of year.

Of course, every day like Wednesday brings Spring that much closer.

Certainly sorry about Jake Hirt's automobile fire Tuesday afternoon.

Jake and his wife, Thelma, were on their way into town when they both smelled gasoline and then as Jake said, "There was a boom," and fire broke out under the hood.

State Trooper Gary Salsman, who was following, attempted to douse the blaze with an extinguisher he had in his car but to no avail.

Greencastle firemen made a run to the scene, a short distance south of the city limits on Ind. 43.

Jake told me that his 1966 Oldsmobile was a total loss.

Received a short letter and some clippings from Mrs. Ola Ruark.

A former resident of Dana, Mrs. Ruark writes that Dana will be having a centennial celebration in August and that she was contacted to write an article to give information.

The following is one of the old newspaper clippings she sent me:

In cleaning out an old work shop at her home in Fillmore recently Mrs. Louie Sinclair, for many years owner of the Fillmore telephone exchange, ran across an old copy of the Ulster County Gazette, printed January 4, 1800. The paper carried an account of the burial of George Washington, as follows:

On Wednesday last, the mortal part of WASHINGTON the Great—the Father of his Country and the Friend of man, was consigned to the tomb, with solemn honors and funeral pomp.

A multitude of persons assembled, from many miles around, at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief. There were the groves the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion—but, alas! the august inhabitant was now no more. The great soul was gone. His mortal part was there indeed; but ah! how affecting how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus, to mortal eyes, fallen!—Yes! fallen! fallen!

In the long and lofty portico, where oft the Hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance still composed and serene, seemed to depress the dignity of the spirit, which lately dwelt in that lifeless form! There those who paid the last and honors to the benefactor of his country, took an impressive—a fair view.

On the ornament at the head of the coffin, was inscribed Surge and Judicium—about the middle of the coffin, Gloria deo—and on the silver plate, General George Washington, departed this life on the 14th of December, 1799.

In the paper are a number of advertisements of that day. One is a saw mill for sale, including a stout, healthy active Negro Wench. The paper is in good preservation.

Houck Announces He'll Run Again

James M. Houck today announced his intention of filing as a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of Putnam County, subject to the Democratic primary in May.

Houck, the incumbent, is a life-long resident of Putnam County, a graduate of Greencastle High School, DePauw University and Indiana University School of Law. He is a

Dear Editor:

We feel people would be interested to know the Army Corps of Engineers has been working in Putnam County during the past couple of weeks, as a result of the $153,000 released by Congress for fiscal 1974.

The Corps is here studying the area for the proposed Big Walnut Reservoir. They are gathering information for planning and design of the Reservoir. Another $225,000 appropriation for the same purpose has been recommended by President Nixon and is now before the Appropriations Committee for action. These amounts are in addition to the hundreds of thousands already spent in the ten years or so the Reservoir has already been in the talking and planning stage. This can go on indefinitely.

Big Walnut Reservoir is essential to the Wabash Valley Assn. plan for channelization and navigation of the Wabash River. Channelization causes flooding.

The area designated for the Big Walnut Reservoir has not had a damaging flood since 1957. It is an agricultural area producing close to $2 million in agricultural products and spending most of that income right here in Putnam County.

Are Putnam County's business people prepared to release this dependable steady business for summer weekend visitors? Are the community residents ready for Saturday and Sunday traffic tieups?

Are the residents of Country Club Hill ready for a dam in their back yard taller than the hill they live on? At extreme flood stage the water would be standing 12 feet above these homes. Information is available at the Putnam County Library, along with maps.

All the ravages of the Corps of Engineers and Channelization Projects you have read about in the "Readers Digest" are about to happen right here in Putnam County. These projects are political, write Governor Bowen, Senators Bayh and Hartke and Congressman Myers. If you do nothing you are helping it happen.

AIMING FOR ECONOMY WITH A SMALL CAR?

THE DODGE BOYS ARE RIGHT ON TARGET

WITH A FREE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION.

Right now, when you buy either a Dart Swinger hardtop or Dart Custom four-door sedan optionally equipped with power steering, vinyl roof, AM radio, light package, whitewall tires, deluxe wheel covers, left remote-control mirror, deluxe bumper guards, three-speed wipers with electric washers, day/night inside mirror, deluxe insulation package, and special exterior moldings, your Dodge Dealer can offer you the automatic transmission free (because Dodge doesn't charge him for it). See the new '74 Dart Automatic Specials at the Dodge Boys' right away.

SEE THE GREAT SMALL CARS THAT MAKE UP THE "DART DOZEN."

They're all "right on" with:

• ECONOMY!

Did you know that a Dodge Dart Sport can go farther on a gallon of gas than a Nova?

Gas mileage figures based on October 1973 Popular Science magazine. Tests performed by Popular Science for its report were conducted on '73 vehicles with figures adjusted by Popular Science for 1974 model changes and the results of E.P.A. tests.

• INCREASING TRADE-IN VALUE.

Just check around, wherever used Dodge Darts are sold. You'll see how our little cars hold their value.

• ROOM FOR 5 OR 6.

Our Swinger hardtops and Dart sedans have room for six. There's room for five in our Dart Sport coupe. (Yet, Dart Sport has more total hip-room than Maverick, more trunk space than three Pintos!)

• ELECTRONIC IGNITION.

This advanced system is standard on every 1974 Dodge Dart. It eliminates points and condenser (that can wear out or get wet). In addition, factory-recommended spark plug maintenance is up to 18,000 miles under normal driving conditions. (Another nice saving for you when you choose a new Dart.)

• SMALL-CAR MANEUVERABILITY.

If you've been driving a big car for years—you may be pleasantly surprised to find how many "more" parking spaces there are for a Dodge Dart at parking lots.

Dear Abby

4 in an apartment

1 too many for Joan

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old guy who came to New York with a buddy. We teamed up with another guy, and the three of us share a two-bedroom apartment. It's a great location for all of us, and we split the rent.

My buddy (the one I came to New York with) invited his girl friend from back home to come to New York and stay at his pad. She's still here and plans to stay indefinitely. [She and my buddy share one bedroom, and the other guy and I share one.]

I recently met Joan, who's the nicest gal I've ever known. She asked me where I lived, and I told her I lived with two other guys. Then I mentioned this girl who's staying with my buddy. Joan blew her stack and said she didn't like the idea of a girl living in the same apartment with me even tho I have nothing to do with her. I'm serious about Joan. She's a very classy gal, but she insists that either that girl should move, or I should. What do you think?

MR. CLEAN

DEAR MR. CLEAN: If anybody should move, it should be your buddy who invited his girl friend to bunk with him. That's not the deal you made originally. Joan's objections are valid, so if the shacker-uppers won't budge, you'd be wise to move. It's easier to find another pad than another classy gal.

DEAR ABBY: Please reassure the wife who lamented that she had been smothered in bed, but short elsewhere during 27 years of marriage:

1. A lady's enthusiasm has everything to do with a man's virility [rhymes with ability];

2. Love and sex are not synonymous, but they can be mighty close kin;

3. Anybody can learn to cook, and I'll bet Whatshis-name whistles while he fixes breakfast every morning.

OLD HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: And I'll bet you're right!

DEAR ABBY: My own tendency to be late was cured when someone said that tardiness is the subtlest form of self-love and conceit—counting your time and convenience more important than another's.

Perhaps that is why the tardiness of my inlaws rankles me so. They are consistently late, a half hour to an hour and a half, even for a dinner when others are involved.

Don't suggest that I give them an earlier arrival time. One family member did this, and when it was discovered, retaliation set in. How would you handle this? [Short of excluding these members from family gatherings.]

OFFENDED AND BAFFLED

DEAR O AND B: Don't sweat it. Invite them only on those occasions when their late arrival will not inconvenience YOU!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DOING IT MY WAY": You'll never get away with it. The sins we do two by two, we pay for one by one.

Service Club Meets

The Community Service Home Extension Club of Bainbridge met at the home of Bonnie McCullough on Tuesday, Feb. 13, with Martha Stevens as co-hostess. Roll call was answered by showing homemade valentines and by reciting a quotation from Abraham Lincoln.

The treasurer reported that 200 gallons of fuel oil were given to a local woman by the club and that a box of staple foods was being prepared for her use.

Bonnie McCullough and Pat Inman were appointed to make contact with the Sunset Manor Nursing Home after the club voted to adopt a patient from the home. Plans were made to visit the new friend and to remember her with cards and gifts.

Several club members were interested in the new Cultural Arts program being planned by the county committee. Some members expressed an interest in attending the Art Class for the community beginning at the North Putnam High School soon. This class will be under the direction of Miss Linda Daseler, the art teacher at the school.

Marilyn Winters gave an interesting lesson on "Priorities for Parents" which dealt with the topic of child guidance and discipline. Consideration was given during the discussion to the fact that children's personalities differ, as well as the parents', and respect for these differences must be recognized.

For refreshments the hostess served Lincoln log cakes, cherry jello and Valentine cookies.

Opening lead - king of diamonds.

When Sylvia first learned to finesse, a brand new world opened up for her. She didn't fully comprehend what constituted a finesse, but that didn't stop her from deploying this new resource with all the enthusiasm of a child enamored of a delightful new toy.

Nor did it take long for the members of the club to learn of Sylvia's extraordinary conception of a finesse. She played in the club duplicate one night soon after her introduction to the finesse and held the South hand when this deal came up. At most tables South arrived at four hearts and West led a diamond, taken with the ace. Declarer then led the ace and another trump, East producing the nine followed by the ten. At this point the various declarers pondered deeply whether to play the queen or follow low. But whatever they played, they invariably went down one, for West took the king and led three rounds of diamonds to put South out of his misery.

But Sylvia, also in four hearts, made the contract in her own inimitable fashion. She won the diamond lead and entered her hand with a spade in order to make use of her latest weapon—the finesse.

She led the queen of trumps! West covered with the king, won in dummy with the ace, and Sylvia played another trump. East won with the ten but was helpless. He did as well as he could when he cashed the jack of trumps and returned a spade, but the rest of the play was automatic. Sylvia disposed of two of her diamonds on dummy's clubs and was the only one in the field to make four hearts.

Oil Companies To Release 2% Of Own Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office ordered oil companies Tuesday to send additional gasoline from their own stocks to 20 states suffering shortages in February.

The move was aimed at easing the long waiting lines at gasoline stations, but there was no way to guess how much relief it would bring.

The additional gasoline was earmarked to be added to the state set-asides for "hardship cases", to be distributed at the discretion of state governors to alleviate particularly severe local gasoline shortages.

Last Feb. 9, the FEO requested that oil companies transfer up to two per cent of the gasoline allocation from ten states, and increase by as much as two per cent the allocation of 12 other states and the District of Columbia.

The FEO said Tuesday that policy still stands; but four states due for increases under both the Feb. 9 policy and Tuesday's order would get only the amount of Tuesday's order.

Here is a summary of the FEO gasoline allocation increases:

—Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oregon, Vermont and West Virginia: These eight states had their total February gasoline allocation increased five per cent by Tuesday's order. Three per cent of their original allocation was already set aside to aid hardship cases; the new five per cent increase is added to that hardship set-aside for use at the governors' discretion.

—New Jersey and Virginia: Last Feb. 9, these two states were designated to receive up to two per cent more gasoline in February, if the oil companies could conveniently provide it; Tuesday's order included that two per cent in a total five per cent increase and required the oil companies to provide it all. The five per cent increase was to be added to the existing state hardship set-aside of three per cent of the original supply, for use at the governors' discretion.

—Connecticut, Florida, Indiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, New York, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island: The FEO order Tuesday required oil companies to send these eight states an additional two per cent on top of their original February gasoline allocations, to be added to their previous three per cent state hardship set-asides, to be distributed at the discretion of their governors.

—Illinois and Maryland: Designated last Feb. 9 to receive up to two per cent more gasoline if oil companies could conveniently provide it, these two states were assigned the full two per cent increase on a mandatory basis, to be added to their previous three per cent state hardship set-asides, for distribution at the discretion of their governors.

—Arkansas, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Kentucky, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, Texas and Tennessee:

These nine jurisdictions were designated last Feb. 9 to receive additional gasoline ranging up to two per cent "to the extent practicable and considering limitation of their (oil companies') distribution systems." They remained in that position following Tuesday's order, and the FEO said it did not know how much additional gasoline they actually would receive — if any.

—Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming: These ten states were designated last Feb. 9 to have their February gasoline supplies reduced anywhere up to two per cent, again "to the extent practicable and considering limitation" of company distribution systems. This, too, remained unchanged the FEO said, adding that it did not know how much gasoline, if any, was actually being transferred out of these states.

No decreases or increases to February supplies were scheduled for any other state or jurisdiction.

All together, the 20 states assigned five per cent or two per cent additions to their hardship set-asides Tuesday were to get a total of some two million additional barrels of gasoline — about 84 million additional gallons.

This would amount to a net increase of some 1.6 million barrels in addition to the two per cent increases requested last Feb. 9 for the four states appearing on both lists — Feb. 9 and Tuesday.

Several Nations Face Economy Squeeze Unless Others Help

WASHINGTON (AP) —

About 30 poor nations with 900 million people face economic collapse unless other countries help pay for their higher food and oil bills, a private study says.

The developing nations cited in the study are in tropical Africa, Southeast Asia, and Central America and include Chile, Uruguay and possibly the Philippines, the study prepared by the Overseas Development Council says. India and Bangladesh are among them.

James P. Grant, a former State Department official, prepared the study for the council, a privately financed "think tank" which studies international problems.

According to Grant, the poorest of the developing nations need an additional $3 billion annually to cover increased prices for food and fertilizer and fuel to stave off economic catastrophe.

Perhaps another $1 billion will be needed to help the poor nations develop coal-conversion projects and other means of easing the fuel shortage in the future, the study said.

The council's study coincides with estimates of the impact of the energy crisis on poor nations made by the Nixon administration.

Only last week, Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said a number of developing nations are confronted with starvation unless aid is extended.

Because these nations are so poor, they are unable to get enough credit to pay for the higher food and fuel costs, the study said.

Grant said one proposal under study by the administration would call for selling American wheat to the poor nations at the July 1, 1972 price, then extending credit on easy terms to the poor countries to make up the difference.

This would be in conjunction with an agreement in which the oil exporting nations would in essence do the same thing with oil. But no such agreement is in sight, and U.S. officials said they doubted it would be proposed.

U.S. Companies Get $130 Million

LIMA, Peru AP-The Peruvian government is going to pay United States companies about $130 million for assets it expropriated in the past five years, informed sources say.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said a compensation agreement would be signed today in Lima by Foreign Minister Miguel Angel de la Flor and James Greene, New York banker and special envoy from President Nixon. The amount of money was not announced.

The sources said Peru's payments would be financed by a loan, probably repayable over 10 years, from the First National City Bank of New York, the Chemical Bank and the First National Bank of Boston.

The properties are six mines owned by Cerro Corp.; a chemical plant, a paper pulp factory and two sugar estates owned by W.R. Grace & Co.; a Morrison Knudsen construction firm; and six fishmeal plants belonging to International Proteins, Starkist, Heinz, Cargill, General Mills and Goldkist, the sources said.

Two oilfields and a petroleum refinery operated by Exxon's International Petroleum Co. were nationalized five years ago, but the agreement does not include them. The government recognized that the oil properties had a book value of about $100 million but claimed the company had been exploiting the fields illegally for 40 years and refused to pay compensation.

New Government Chances Cloud

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir's chances of forming a new Israeli government were clouded today by Defense Minister Moshe Dayan's announcement that he would not join the new cabinet under present circumstances.

Mrs. Meir was reported near agreement with her Labor Alignment's traditional coalition partner, the National Religious Party. Then the one-eyed hero of the 1956 and 1967 wars against the Arabs announced he was holding out, presumably because of the widespread criticism of his failure to prepare the armed forces for the Arab attack in October.

"Dayan is trying to pull a Nasser," said one prominent political associate, referring to the late Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's resignation after Egypt's defeat in the 1967 war. Nasser's play brought hysterical mobs into the Cairo streets, shouting for his return to office, and he complied. But Dayan's plight has brought out only one crowd, of 5,000 last weekend in Jerusalem, and it demanded his ouster.

Today was the deadline for Mrs. Meir to form a new government or let someone else try. She could ask President Ephraim Katzir for a three-week extension, but she said Tuesday she did not intend to ask for more time.

Dayan's support appeared necessary to give Mrs. Meir a majority in the Knesset, the Israeli parliament. Her Labor forces won 51 of the 120 seats in the Dec. 31 elections. The National Religious party's 10 seats would give the 75-year-old premier a two-vote majority, and she can count on the support of several smaller groups on crucial issues involved in the peace negotiations with the Arabs.

But Dayan and his supporters hold seven of the Labor seats and he did not make clear whether the government would have this support without him in the cabinet.

Some associates of Dayan indicated he was trying to force Mrs. Meir to form a coalition with the Likud bloc, the right-wing opposition that profited from dissatisfaction with the government's handling of the October war and won 37 seats in the election. Mrs. Meir is opposed to bringing the Likud into the government because of its opposition to territorial concessions to the Arabs.

Dayan's successes in the 1956 and 1967 wars made him the most popular man in Israel and one of the best-known Israelis abroad. But his popularity has dropped steadily since the Arab attack in October took Israel by surprise and the Israelis suffered heavy casualties at the start of the fighting.

Oil Controversy Now To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversy over oil prices has shifted to the House where the Rules Committee is considering the future of emergency energy legislation already threatened with a Presidential veto.

The measure, which would roll back the price of roughly one-quarter of the crude oil produced in the United States, passed the Senate Tuesday by a margin large enough to override the promised veto. Senate Interior Chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the rollback could reduce gasoline prices by 5 cents a gallon and cut soaring propane prices in half.

Since the rollback was not contained in the bill originally passed by the House, the Rules Committee now must decide whether to waive the parliamentary points of order certain to be raised by representatives from oil-producing states. Previous attempts to grant the bill such a waiver have failed on a 7 to 7 tie vote.

The bill, which also would grant President Nixon power to order gasoline rationing, passed the Senate Tuesday by a vote of 67 to 32 after surviving with surprising ease an administration-backed effort to return the bill to conference with the House.

After the vote, Jackson said he was confident the Senate could override the presidential veto promised by federal energy chief William E. Simon in a letter to Minority Leader Hugh Scott. However, he added he could not predict what would happen in the House.

In addition to the rollback, Simon also objected to a provision that would make available an additional $500 million in unemployment benefits to workers laid off because of fuel shortages.

The bill also would suspend clean air standards temporarily in order to permit power plants to burn high sulfur coal and would grant Detroit a one year delay in meeting auto exhaust requirements.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Horace raises a legal problem that infuriates millions of honest citizens. Why should the property owner in today's case be held in $75,000 bail for shooting the invading criminal, while the latter was required to furnish only $1,500 (2%) as much?

CASE Z-558: Horace B., aged 19, is a college sophomore. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I am taking pre-law courses, for I expect to enter Law School."

"But I am confused about the differential way our courts are treating home owners versus criminal intruders."

"For example, you may have noticed the recent Chicago case where thieves were breaking into a garage. The owner resolved to sleep in the loft of the family garage to see if he couldn't apprehend the culprits next time."

"On about the 8th night, he woke up to hear them, apparently trying to loot his garage."

"The time was about 2 A.M., and two couples were reported as involved."

"He finally shot as they fled and found that he had killed a young woman about 20 and wounded another married girl, aged 18."

"The men got away, but one of them was a repeater criminal, who may have instigated the robbery."

"But what puzzles me is the fact that the owner, who shot the culprits, was arraigned with a bail of $75,000, while the girl he shot in the arm, was only booked with a bail of $1,500."

"Yet she was one of the guilty parties, while the owner of the bike was defending his own private property!"

"How can the courts justify such playing footsie with criminals, yet penalizing honest property owners who try to protect their hard earned possessions?"

COURT CAVILLING

Maybe it is high time modern Applied Psychology became an ally of the courts!

For our pioneer psychologist, Dr. William James, of Harvard, said that a man's possessions are an extension of his own personality.

If you thus mutilate or destroy a person's nose or hand or eye, that is deemed a very serious offense and is called mayhem.

But if you likewise damage his auto or steal his bicycle, that would thus be termed at least a cousin of mayhem, as per Dr. James! Furthermore, if you worked for 6 months and saved all your pay to buy a $4,000 automobile, that auto then represents half a year of your life!

Anybody who thus steals or destroys that auto, has figuratively killed you six months ahead of time, via destroying half a year of your productive life!

The American public is murmuring angrily, not just at the Watergate bungling lawyers, but also at what they consider the miscarriage of justice in our courts by coddling criminals and penalizing honest defenders of property.

And it isn't the faithful policemen who are at fault, for they find that when they risk their lives in defense of us citizens, the criminals they arrest are often turned loose with a figurative slap on the wrist or are paroled to commit additional rapes, thefts and arson.

One ranking police official recently told me that policemen are thus discouraged at this wanton coddling of law breakers.

"We endanger our lives to apprehend the guilty, only to see them laugh at us as they stroll out of the courtroom, paroled or freed on technicalities!"

Increases Sentence

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Supreme Court says it was all right for Marion County Criminal Court to increase the sentence of a man who violated probation after his original sentence was suspended.

Reversing the lower court ruling would "severely damage the flexibility which the legislature obviously intended" when it authorized new sentences in probation violation cases, the high court said Tuesday. Justice Richard M. Givan wrote the 4-1 opinion. Justice Roger O. DeBruhl dissented.

James Smith pleaded guilty Nov. 13, 1970, to carrying a pistol without a license. A one-year sentence and $200 fine was suspended and he was placed on one-year probation.

Six months later he was convicted of violating probation by passing a bad check. The trial court set aside the suspended sentence and ordered Smith to the state reformatory for 10 years.

The Supreme Court also ruled unanimously that the 1973 act providing for single-member commissioner districts in Lake County was unconstitutional. However, a new law was passed this year and signed by the governor.

Kissinger Sets Familiar Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returns to the Middle East again on Monday, this time to try to arrange for disengagement talks between Israel and Syria.

President Nixon announced on Tuesday the Kissinger trip which, he said, should "get the talks started." If Kissinger had a difficult task arranging the separation of Israeli and Egyptian forces on the Suez Canal, his new job appears to be even more formidable, American specialists acknowledge.

Nixon made the announcement in the White House Rose Garden after a 90-minute conference with Ismail Fahmy and Omar Sakka, the foreign ministers of Egypt and Saudi Arabia respectively.

Kissinger has repeatedly said he was willing to act as a go-between in the Israeli-Syrian dispute should both sides show readiness to drop their insistence on rigid preconditions.

This condition, U.S. officials and diplomatic observers hint, has now been fulfilled. But in what way remains secret. Kissinger has met with Israeli Ambassador Simcha Dinitz several times within the past few days, presumably receiving from the diplomat the Israeli position.

Fahmy and Sakka presented Nixon with a message from the heads of state of Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Algeria and these apparently convinced Nixon that he would be justified in dispatching his secretary of state to the Middle East.

The two Arab ministers described their message as good news, but declined to spell out what it was. The previous Syrian position was that they want back the territories they lost in 1967 and 1973 before any talks about disengagement and before furnishing a list of Israeli prisoners of war. Israel, on the other hand, refused to talk about disengagement without the POW list.

In the Rose Garden, Nixon said the ultimate goal is a permanent settlement in the Middle East but added that disengagement along the Golan Heights is the immediate problem Kissinger now will attempt to solve.

U.S. officials and Arab diplomats made it clear that the good news did not mean that the Arabs were willing to relent immediately on their oil embargo, punishing the United States for having supplied Israel with military hardware.

Wabash stretched a 69-67 lead with eight straight points to whip DePauw last night in Crawfordsville, 79-73.

It was unheralded Bill Parker's three close in buckets and a lay-up by Joe Jansen in the final two minutes that helped Wabash gain its first ICC win in 10 tries.

The Little Giants broke out front for good after Tiger John Chin tied the game 63-63 with 6:31 left in the game. That won the fifth deadlock of the second period.

Len Fulkerson hit two free throws and Jack Roubush added his eleventh basket of the game to up the count to 67-63, 5:27 to play.

Roubush, with 18 of Wabash's 36 first half points, was high for the game with 30.

DePauw, which had 31 at halftime, was led in its 17th loss by senior center Kyle Fort. He had a career high 29 and did an outstanding job on the boards, especially in the first half. He finished with 29 caroms.

DePauw lost the services of junior sharpshooter Joe LeFevre during the harried action of the second half. Crashing to the floor three times in two minutes, he went out for good with 15:00 to play moments after Steve McCabe made it 47-47.

DePauw outshot the winners 403 (31-77) to 383, but the Little Giants took 94 cracks at the bucket and made 36. Roubush made 13 of 31 and got double figure help from Rick Shonkwiler and Parker.

Fort hit 13 of 20. He got 14 points help from Chin, but no other Tigers broke into double figures.

The two teams split 104 rebounds, taking 52 each.

Saturday night the Tigers will host St. Joseph's whose star is ICC scoring leader Jim Thordsen, a member of Puerto Rico's 1972 Olympic basketball team.

In JV action at Wabash last night DePauw won handily 95-67 for the Tigers' sixth consecutive victory. They too will host St. Joe in JV action at 5:30.

Ky. Wesleyan Tops College Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kentucky Wesleyan moved to the head of the class in a late-season scramble for honors in the Associated Press college division basketball poll today.

Fairmont State, which had a straight-A record until flunking tests given last week by two West Virginia schools, Salem and Bluefield State, fell to third.

Tennessee-Chattanooga, 1-1 last week, held second place with an 18-3 record, but other teams in the Top Five dropped in the rankings.

Alcorn A&M, third a week ago, slipped to seventh after being beaten by Jackson State, and Old Dominion dropped from fifth to ninth. Filling the gaps were Evansville, which moved from seventh to fourth, and Morgan State, which jumped from ninth to fifth.

Kentucky Wesleyan's success was due in part to an 84-74 triumph over Tennessee State which fell from No. 6 to No. 11 after the loss, one of two last week.

Kentucky Wesleyan now is 17-3 for the season, while Tennessee State is 18-3.

Fairmont State, 19-0 going into last week's play, managed only one victory in three games — a 123-78 trouncing of Wheeling — and wound up with a 20-2 mark.

Kentucky Wesleyan received 20 first-place votes from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters and 647 points compared to five first-place votes apiece for UT-Chattanooga, with 530 points, and Fairmont State, third with 452.

Evansville, 16-5 after humbling DePauw 108-70, collected two first-place votes and 381 points. Fifth-ranked Morgan State, sixth-ranked Jackson State, No. 8 Roanoke and No. 9 Old Dominion shared the other first-place votes.

Jackson State, 21-3, vaulted from 12th place a week ago after a 3-0 week; Roanoke moved up from 11th place after a 2-0 week for a 19-4 record; Old Dominion skidded to ninth after losing to William & Mary, and Augustana, Ill., 20-3, rounded out the Top 10.

Following 11th-ranked Tennessee State in the poll were Wittenberg, eighth a week ago; Midwestern and Armstrong State, which retained the 13th and 14th spots, and New Orleans, which dropped from 10th to 15th after two losses and only one victory for a 16-6 record.

Clover 9th Graders Hold Off Cubs

Cloverdale's 9th grade basketball team survived a persistent Greencastle comeback effort Monday in Clover country to walk away with a 46-42 victory.

Ahead by only one basket at the end of the first quarter, the Clovers stretched their lead to six at the half and to eight at the conclusion of the third period, and then withstood a final Cub assault to retain their four point win margin.

The Cubs outshot the Clovers from the floor, hitting 16 of 29 for a 55% average, while Cloverdale managed only 15 of 38 for a less impressive 39%.

However, Jim Coon's Clovers made up this disadvantage at the charity stripe, converting 16 of 24 free throws to 10 of 16 for Gerald York's Cubs to provide the balancing and deciding factor.

The game was the final one of the season for both crews, with the Clovers' final mark

State's Top Team Face Early Tests

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Four of the state's top six teams and defending state champion New Albany face stiff sectional challenges that, with the right combination of upsets and surprises, could throw the field for the Indiana high school basketball title wide open.

The luck of the blind draw threw Associated Press prep poll co-leaders Anderson and Hammond into the fray with other ranked teams and No. 3 Jeffersonville with New Albany's 1973 champs. No. 4 Mishawaka and sixth-ranked South Bend Adams are in separate brackets within the South Bend tourney.

One way or another, four of the Top 20 teams will be spectators for the Regionals. Jeff's Red Devils will either get sweet revenge or a rerun of last year's stunning upset at the hands of the spunky Bulldogs.

Anderson, meanwhile, couldn't have been thrown into a tougher sectional. "Anderson, Madison Heights, Alexandria, Highland and Lapel have lost approximately 10 games between them all year — and most of the losses have been to each other," said Indiana High School Athletic Association Commissioner Phil N. Eskew following the annual draw early Wednesday morning.

The No. 1 Indians get No. 20 Highland in a Wednesday first-round game at 8:30 p.m. With a certain amount of fate mixed in, the Indians could next meet avenge-hungry Madison Heights, a 72-69 loser to Anderson earlier this year. Projecting farther, the Indians might meet up with the Mark Barnhizer-powered Lapel Bulldogs before the whole thing is over.

The situation is only slightly less grim for Hammond, pitted against city rival Clark in the opening game of the Hammond sectional, Wednesday 7 p.m. if the Wildcats can get past No. 17 Clark, there is plenty of other intricacy talent left.

The Jeffersonville-New Albany rematch, Friday 7 p.m., promises to be a battle between the Red Devil quickness and shooting ability and the extraordinary size of the Bulldogs.

In the South Bend sectional, No. 4 Mishawaka is paired with South Bend St. Joseph's in a bracket separate from 6th-ranked South Bend Adams, last year's Final Four runnerup, and South Bend city champ LaSalle. Adams and LaSalle are linked up in the sectional opener.

No. 5 Fort Wayne Northrop, while not exactly breathing easy in its city sectional, drew with one of two tourney newcomers, Harding (Indianapolis' Perry Meridian is the other.)

In the Lebanon sectional, the host Tigers, No. 7, are matched with Indianapolis Brebeuf.

Gary West, 8th-ranked, goes against city foe Wirt, in its first game, but faces a likely shot at

Dark Named A's Skipper

OAKLAND Calif. (AP) — A well-traveled Alvin Dark, a former manager under Charles O. Finley, was named today by Finley as the Oakland A's manager for the coming baseball season, succeeding Dick Williams.

Dark, 52, managed the Kansas City A's in 1966 and was fired on Aug. 20, 1967, after a near-rebellion by the players. He also managed the Cleveland Indians from 1968 through 1971 and has been out of baseball since.

Finley announced the return of Dark to the A's at a news conference here.

Finley said today he and Dark "have decided to get married again."

Finley acknowledged, "There has been a lot of speculation. But I really didn't know myself who my manager would be until 48 hours ago."

Dark also had managed the San Francisco Giants from 1961-64, taking them to the 1962 World Series. He was a star shortstop for 14 seasons in the major leagues, compiling a .298 career batting average.

Dark, in answer to a question, said the contract was for one year.

"You may ask why I chose Alvin," said Finley. "Well, I've known Alvin for quite some time. Yes, he has been manager of this club. Yes, he was fired. Yes, he is back to manage this club. Yes, he expects to be fired again some day, but he told me he hoped he would be here a hell of a lot longer than the last time."

"I don't know of a baseball man who is more of a strategist than Alvin. He has proved himself as a player and as a manager. He is the man I have selected to bring Oakland not the first, not the second, but the third world championship in a row."

Dark, tanned and appearing slightly nervous, said he couldn't express "how happy I am to be back."

Asked if he would run the ballclub without consulting Finley, Dark said:

"I wouldn't think of going into a situation like this without consulting the owner and general manager." He said he would seek Finley out and "ask many, many times for his opinion."

Green, 'Player Of Week'

CHICAGO (AP) — Steve Green of Indiana's first place Hoosiers has been named the Big Ten basketball player of the week.

The 6-foot-7, 218-pound junior from Milan, Ind., helped the Hoosiers take over the conference lead over the weekend as Indiana ran up convincing victories over Michigan and Illinois.

Green pumped in 37 points in a pivotal 93-81 victory over Michigan Saturday and came back to score 20 more points against Illinois in a 101-83 triumph Monday night.

Green's performance against Michigan won the accolades of Wolverine Coach Johnny Orr. "I've always thought Green was a fine basketball player but he really played a great game against us."

Indiana Coach Bobby Knight said the difference in Green's play has been his concentration. "He was making silly fouls earlier in the season but now he is playing with concentration."

Others nominated for the award were Indiana's Quinn Buckner who picked up only eight points but had 14 assists against Illinois and Candy LaPrance of Iowa.

LaPrance scored 20 points in helping Iowa defeat Ohio State 69-67 Saturday and came back with 21 in a 99-78 loss to Purdue Monday night.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL IS LOOKING UP... or at least these North Putnam and a Cloverdale girl basketballers are, in the Cougar-Clover clash last week. Surrounding the unidentified Clover shooter are (l. to r.) Cougars Ronda Alexander, Marsha McKeenan, and Becky Brothers. The Cougar girls won, 43-32.

Cub, Clover 8th Graders Advance To Tourney Final

The county's 8th grade basketball teams clashed Tuesday night in the Greencastle Junior High School gym, as the Putnam County Junior High tournament went into its second night of action.

Cloverdale's 8th graders began the evening with a 53-44 defeat of North Putnam, as the Clovers broke open the tight game with a strong second half.

Ahead by only three at the intermission, Cloverdale knocked home 16 third period markers to the Cougars' 6 to take a 37-27 lead into the final frame, during which they lost only one point of their advantage.

Tuesday night's second game saw Greencastle's 8th graders jump to a ten point lead in the first quarter, and then ride it on in to a 49-34 victory over South Putnam.

The Cubs enjoyed their biggest lead of the night at the end of the third period, ahead 39-22, before the Eagles played them even up in the last stanza.

Cloverdale and Greencastle will meet tonight in the second game at the Junior High gym to decide the 8th grade county champion, while the Cub 7th graders will play South Putnam in the preceding 7th grade title game, scheduled to get underway at 6:30.

North Putnam To Host Girls' Cage Tourney

Two county teams will form half of the field for the North Putnam Invitational Girl's Basketball Tournament, to be held Saturday at North Putnam High School.

The Cougars will host Cloverdale, Southmont, and Ben Davis, squaring off against the Clovers in the opening game of the tourney, nine o'clock Saturday morning.

The Ben Davis - Southmont contest will follow, with the losers of the morning games meeting in the consolation match at 1:30 in the afternoon. The championship game will then wind up the tournament immediately following the consolation game.

Trophies will be awarded for first and second place.

Admission is 50 cents, and refreshments will be available.

Girls' basketball fans who are wondering why Greencastle's team is not participating should note that the Cub girls ended their basketball season earlier, and are now in the midst of the swimming season, according to North Putnam coach Lynn Hippensteel.

Hippensteel will bring her

THE SCRAMBLE IS ON... as Cloverdale's Glenda Hervey and North Putnam's Jo Clodfelter fight for the ball.

varsity girls into the tourney with an 8-1 record, their only loss coming at the hands of Lebanon two weeks ago, 43-30.

Since then the Cougar girls have demolished Granville Wells, 45-12, and consistently downed Cloverdale and Pittsboro last week, 43-32 and 43-31, respectively.

The Cougar crew is lead by the troublesom trio of Becky Brothers, Ronda Alexander, and Jo Clodfelter, who have combined for 97 points and 120 rebounds in the last three outings, according to North Putnam statistics.

Cougars opponents in the tourney will surely have their hands full with them, if performances thus far this season aruany indication.

Wait For Gasoline
To Be Eased
This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) - Long lines of cars around gasoline stations and other critical problems resulting from the energy shortage will be ended this year, says Budget Director Roy L. Ash.

Ash has voiced support of President Nixon's belief that the country will break the back of the energy crisis this year, because, Ash said, Americans will adjust to having less fuel.

"If all goes well within this year, we will learn how to live with 7 per cent less energy," Ash said.

The 7 per cent refers to the reduced petroleum supplies resulting from the Arab oil embargo.

Meanwhile, a White House spokesman said President Nixon "is well aware of the situation at gas stations."

Nixon will assess the results of various state mandatory and voluntary allocation plans before recommending any changes in federal gas rationing policy, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said.

However, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., said he plans legislative action that would force Nixon to implement nationwide rationing.

Weicker predicted that gasoline shortages would become "10 times more uncomfortable and disagreeable this spring and summer."

And the American Automobile Association said that the number of service stations limiting purchases and closing early jumped to new highs this past week.

Weicker said he would move to require a mandatory rationing program when the Senate votes on the emergency energy bill next week.

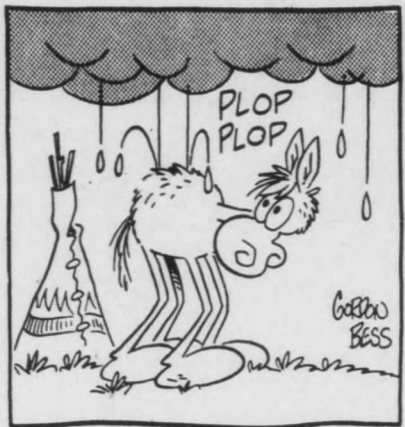

The Federal Energy Office said it is considering beating Congress to the punch on another provision of that bill.

Congress is considering a proposal to roll back the price of oil now exempt from price controls to $7.09 a barrel. The FEO said it is considering setting the price at $7.87.

The price for uncontrolled domestic crude ranges from $9.50 to $10 a barrel.

The FEO also ruled that gasoline stations which sell only to their regular customers are violating federal law.

Couple Nabbed For Fraud

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A couple has been booked for investigation of impersonation Patricia Hearst's kidnappers to try to collect $100,000 in ransom money.

"It had no class" a disdainful police investigator said Tuesday of the alleged impersonation.

Booked were Nile Dwayne Marx, a 43-year-old unemployed cab driver from somewhere in Indiana, and his young wife, Shirley Ann, 21, Columbia, Mo.

Police said the couple arrived in Los Angeles six days ago and had been nearly broke. They thought up the idea after they heard of the kidnap, officers said.

They were arrested late Saturday night and booked early Sunday, said police. Announcement of the arrest was delayed while authorities determined whether the couple had any real connection with the kidnap.

Officers said the couple telephoned the Hearst home in Hillsborough in Northern California and left instructions for $100,000 to be left at a downtown Los Angeles bus station. They were arrested when they showed up at the drop point.

Air Intrusion Checked

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The weekend crash landing of a stolen helicopter on the White House lawn has brought a review of ways to remedy the executive mansion's vulnerability to aerial attack. But officials expressed doubt that, short of a costly and obtrusive anti-aircraft defense, much more can be done to protect the President's home against surprise assault by helicopter or airplane.

"What can you do?" said one White House aide in discussing the weekend incident. "There's no way you can stop it. Anytime anybody wants to..."

In the early morning hours Sunday, an unarmed helicopter stolen from Ft. Meade, Md., violated the restricted airspace over the White House, but quickly buzzed away, before the handful of security guards on duty could react.

An hour later, pursued by a Maryland State Police helicopter and tracked by military radar, it returned to the White House. This time it was pelted by automatic weapons and shot down, landing 100 yards from the virtually vacant mansion.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that after any such incident officials charged with protecting the President "re-evaluate their procedures."

And a Pentagon spokesman reported tighter security had been ordered at military airfields after the Army mechanic stole the helicopter which ended up on the White House lawn.

The helicopter incident unfolded at a time when White House security forces were at their thinnest.

With the President and all other members of the First Family away for the weekend, a lone Secret Service agent was on duty in the basement command center. Outside, most of the dozen guard houses on the White House grounds were occupied by the younger members of the Executive Protective Service, the Secret Service's uniformed branch.

But in the hour between the first sighting of the stolen helicopter near the White House and its return, an air defense plan of sorts was implemented.

No military helicopters were sent aloft — a fact that troubles the Maryland State Police pilot pursuing the piloted chopper. "I thought, where is everybody? Why are just we here?" said pilot Louis Safran in describing his feelings as he saw the stolen helicopter approach the White House for a second time.

But almost at that moment, security forces on the ground opened fire. First reports mentioned only shotguns, but a Secret Service spokesman confirmed Tuesday that "an automatic weapon was used."

WATERGATE COMMITTEE

Votes To End Public Hearings

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee has voted to end public hearings unless it uncovers extraordinary new evidence.

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said the move reflects the panel's awareness that the focus of Watergate has shifted to the courts and to the impeachment inquiry in the House of Representatives.

The 6-1 vote cancels two sets of hearings for which witnesses already had been announced.

They are an inquiry into the circumstances of a $100,000 payment made by billionaire Howard Hughes to C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo, a close friend of the President, and alleged links between campaign payments made by the milk industry and a Nixon administration decision increasing dairy price supports.

Ervin told newsmen those and other unfinished investigations will be included in the panel's final report.

The dissenting vote to end public hearings was cast by Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla.

The committee's official position leaves the door open to taking some further testimony in executive sessions. Ervin said Gurney wanted all hearings ended and the final report written immediately.

Following Ervin's announcement, the Senate approved by a voice vote a resolution extending the panel's life three months until May 28.

Ervin said the extension is needed to allow the committee time to complete its report.

Publication of that report was delayed at the request of special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski who said its release now might interfere with indictments expected by the end of the month.

As the committee acted, Watergate developments continued to unfold elsewhere.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ordered White House lawyers and Jaworski's staff to stop commenting publicly about investigations into the condition of subpoenaed presidential tape recordings.

After a private meeting with the major figures involved, he said they had agreed "to take several precautionary measures to prevent the disclosure of matters which ought, for the time being at least, to remain confidential."

Sirica acted after a series of reports concerning the possibility that some other tapes showed signs of possible tampering.

Tape Reports Have Conflict Of Opinion

NEW YORK AP—An electronics expert, in a five-page report submitted to White House lawyers, says that an 18½-minute gap in a key presidential tape could have been caused accidentally, the New York Times reported yesterday.

The Times said the report, which appears to contradict the findings of a panel of experts who examined the tape, came from Allan D. Bell Jr., president of Dektor Counterintelligence and Security, Inc., of Springvale, Va.

Bell, the Times report said, volunteered to help Charles S. Rhyne, a lawyer for Rose Mary Woods, President Nixon's secretary.

The panel of experts was chosen by the White House and special prosecutor Leon Jaworski to study seven tapes under subpoena from the White House.

In his report, the Times said, Bell says the gap in the tape may have been caused by a defective part in Miss Wood's recorder. The panel, in reporting that the erasures were probably caused by manual operation of the keyboard controls, suggested the erasures were deliberate.

The Times article stated: "The Bell report appears to contradict the findings of a panel of experts that were widely interpreted as indicating that the erasures on the recording were deliberate."

The Times also quotes an unnamed member of the tape panel as saying of the Bell report: "If you had the full story in your hands, you might choose to underplay the Bell report."

Bell told the Times that his findings may have served as support for a statement Monday by the President's Watergate attorney, James D. St. Clair.

St. Clair said a "technical investigation" determined that the erasures may have been caused by a defect in the tape recorder."

Sullivan Has Drug Problems

SULLIVAN, Ind. AP—An "increasing drug problem" in Sullivan County has triggered a grand jury investigation, Prosecutor Ed Powell said today.

He said he requested the probe "because of the general unrest in the community with regard to drug related problems and what I regard as an increasing use of drugs by young people and increasing drug trafficking in the county."

The jury will convene at 9 a.m. Wednesday. Powell said its main task will be to investigate, although it could return indictments.

"I've said it ever since I've been in town, that there has been a drug problem," Powell said. He cited a recent incident of alleged drug use at the high school and eight students voluntarily withdrawing from school.

"I couldn't get anybody to believe me" about drug use, Powell said. "Maybe now they'll believe it."
